In the Minds of “Nice” White People: Creating and Maintaining Advantage in the Post-Civil Rights Era

Amanda Lewis
University of Illinois, Chicago

Amanda E. Lewis is an Associate Professor of African American Studies and Sociology at the University of Illinois at Chicago, and Director of the Institute of Research on Race and Public Policy. Her research focuses on how race shapes educational opportunities and how our ideas about race get negotiated in everyday life.

She is the author of Race in the Schoolyard: Negotiating the Color-line in Classrooms and Communities (2003). She is also the co-editor (with Maria Krysan) of The Changing Terrain of Race and Ethnicity (2004), and co-author (with Mark Chesler and Jim Crowfoot) of Challenging Racism in Higher Education: Promoting Justice (2005).
